Nevada City Fireman Hosts At Big Picnic

Honoring the "fire laddies of yesterday" and calling together the fire fighting volunteers of Nevada City, Grass Valley and other cities of California, Nevada City firemen yesterday were hosts to 200 men in Redmen's Park in this city.

At ten o'clock yesterday morning the firemen assembled at fire house of Pennsylvania Engine company No. 2 on Broad street. There a procession was formed with the latest model fire engine leading. At the rear of the procession came the old one horse wagon acquired by the Nevada City fire department.

That grand horse, "Old Doc," who once drew this hose wagon to the scene of early day fires, has long since gone to the green pastures of an equine paradise. But ten stalwart firemen took his place in the traces yesterday and pulled the old wagon, well loaded with other firemen to the picnic ground. Sheriff George Carter kept a vigilant foot on the brake down Broad street and was accused of keeping it there on the upgrade from the Plaza to Redmen's Grove.

Nine former fire chiefs of Nevada City were among the guests of yesterday. An initiation of niviate firemen was held by both Nevada City and Grass Valley fire departments. The ceremony was marked by unusual and hilarious stunts.

Shortly afternoon the entire assembly sat down to a chicken stew washed down by legal brew.

Charles Clinch, former fire chief of Grass Valley, gave a stirring address during the afternoon program, and other talks were made by former chiefs.

Governor Rolph, invited by Secretary E. J. Kilroy to attend sent the following "regrets:"

"On a recent visit of Charles E. Clinch of Grass Valley, he gave me a special invitation from you to be present at a party honoring the "Fire Laddies of Yesterday" to be held in Nevada City on Sunday, June 4, at 10 o'clock.

"I am very disappointed that plans made many weeks ago before I received your invitation will prevent my being with you. Saturday I am driving to Visalia to participate in their annual Rodeo, and for at least part of Sunday I plan to be with my son, Mr. James Rolph III, on his ranch where he is entertaining the employes of his insurance firm.

"I wish I could be with you, and I send my compliments."

Very sincerely yours,
JAMES ROLPH, Jr.
Governor of California.

Among others honored with an invitation were: S. Guy Lukens, fire chief of Auburn, Willis Green of Nevada City, Henry C. Flynn of Dobbins, California, Herman E. Katzer of Gridley, Charles J. Brennan, San Francisco, fire chief, C. E. Tegler of San Jose, N. J. Rohr of Watsonville, M. Rosenberg of San Francisco, Dr. A. N. Morgan of Brawley, and G. S. Nisson of San Francisco.

The picnic and rally was so successful and so thoroughly enjoyed, that it is proposed to make it an annual event.

INTOXICATED DRIVER ASKS FOR PROBATION

Robert W. Atkinson, arraigned in the Superior Court Friday morning, on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, entered a plea of guilty, and asked for probation. His bail was fixed at $1,000, while the probation officer investigates the case before making his recommendation to the court. The latter will render his report on June 16.

BUTTER AND CHEESE CONSUMPTION GAINS

SACRAMENTO, June 5—(UP)—Residents of California have improved their taste for butter and cheese, but apparently don't care so much for other dairy products .

The per capita consumption of butter increased from 18.69 to 18.-.70 pounds a year from 1931 to 1932 and cheese from 5.42 to 5.74 lbs. in the same period, according to the dairy service of the state department of agriculture.

Other products showed the following losses in per capita consumption:

Cottage cheese, 2.83 to 2.39 pounds; ice cream, 2.32 to 1.69 gallons; market milk, 22.6 to 21.5 gallons.

Mrs. R. M. Foley visited in Nevada City Thursday enroute from San Francisco to her home in Alleghany. Mrs. Foley will be remembered as Miss Doris Nightengale; popular music teacher of Nevada City. She has been ill for several months, and is somewhat improved, but it will be several months before she will be completely recovered. She was accompanied by her husband and a friend, the latter coming to stay with her through the summer.

JUNE ELECTION VITAL TO STATE, SAYS SEAWELL

Nevada City Nugget
Dear Editor:

On June 27th one of the most important elections we have had in years will be held in order that the people might pass judgment on ten propositions along with the Repeal of the 18th Amendment that will be submitted to them on that date.

As the representative in the State Legislature from this District, I feel it is my duty to offer my services to any organization or individual groups who are interested and seeking a correct explanation of the measures they will be called upon to decide.

I feel that many of these measures will decide the future of this State and, also, Proposition No. 1., the so-called Riley Stewart Tax Plan is of sufficient importance to the taxpayers of this District to warrant a complete understanding of its provisions.

I trust you will express through the columns of your valuable paper that my services are available to anyone desiring to make use of them, and if meetings can be arranged, I shall be very happy to give my best that the people of my district may be made fully aware of the difficult problems we are now facing.

Sincerely yours,
JERROLD L. SEAWELL

MINE CLAIM OWNERS TO FILE "HOLD" NOTICES

County Recorder Sam Clark states that all those wishing to file notices to hold their mining claims, during the moritorium on assessment work established by Congress, should do so before the first of July. He has a number of blanks on hand for this purpose. A large number of such filings have already been recorded, and it is expected that hundreds more will file during June.

Suspension of the requirement to do assessment work is contained in the following enactment of Congress which the President recently signed:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the provision of section 2324 of the Revised Status of the United States, which requires on each mining claim located, and until a patent has been issued therefor, not less than $100 worth of labor to be performed or improvements aggregating such amount to be made each year, be and the same is hereby, suspended as to all mining claims in the United States, including Alaska, during the year beginning at 12 o'clock meridian July 1, 1932, and ending at 12 o'clock meridian July 1, 1933; Provided, That the provisions of this Act shall not apply in the case of any claimant not entitled to exemption from the payment of a Federal income tax for the taxable year 1932: Provided further, That every claimant of any such mining claim, in order to obtain the benefits of this Act, shall file, or cause to be filed in the office where the location notice or certificate is recorded, on or before 12 o'clock meridian, July 1, 1933, a notice of his desire to hold said mining claim under this Act, which notice shall state that the claimant, or claimants, were entitled to exemption from the payment of a Federal income tax for the taxable year 1932.

"Approved May 18th 1933."

STATE EDUCATIONAL DEPT. TO AID POOR LO

SACRAMENTO, June 5—(UP)—A campaign to extend to California Indians a new deal in education has been undertaken by agencies of the state and federal governments following a conference here.

The Indian educational problem is considered of particular importance in the state inasmuch as there are 19,212 Indians in the state, including 33 in Nevada county.

As a result of the conference, V. Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, and O. H. Lipps, superintendent of the Sacramento Indian agency, U. S. Department of the Interior, were appointed to head a committee "to inaugurate a more workable cooperative program of Indian education."

The immediate effect of this new program will be the preparation by the department of education of a pecial bulletin to be used as a guide by schools having Indian pupils. This publication, it was announced, will be issued with the particular view of assuring a more beneficial use of the $150,000 allocated annually by the federal government as tuition fees for the Indians.

TIM RIORDAN APPROVES POPE'S PRONOUNCEMENT

SACRAMENTO, June 5—(UP)—Timothy Riordan, director of the department of industrial relations, characterizes the recent papal pronouncement on the existing social order as "the greatest economic and social pronouncement in the last 40 years."

Commenting on the pope's views, the director observed:

"On the one hand it must be admitted the wage scale cannot be so high as to cause ruin to employers; but, on the other, wage cuts, caused by bad management or out-of-date methods are unjust. Yet to lower or raise wages for private profit only is against social justice. Unbridled individualism allowing ruthless competition is, in the main, responsible for the present sad condition of labor.

BELOVED CITIZEN OF DOWNIEVILLE PASSES

William Lloyd of Downieville died at his home last Friday morning at nine o'clock. He had been ill for several months past and for about two months had been confined to his bed.

Mr. Lloyd was born in Grass Valley on October 1, 1875. He was the son of Benjamin and Mary Lloyd, who came across the plains in 1849 in the equipage of the time, the covered wagon. When a young man Mr. Lloyd entered the mining business in the state of Nevada and spent many years in this, his chosen field of endeavor. Later in life he began business in Grass Valley in which he prospered for many years, and later he sold his business there and moved to Downieville, where he again engaged in mining for about five years. Then it was that he opened the business in which he was engaged until his death.

Surving relatives are his wife, Mrs. Zelma M. Lloyd, his son, William E. Lloyd ,two sisters ,Mrs. T. C. Thomas of Oakland, and Mrs. J. P. McOmie of San Francisco.

Mr. Lloyd was a member of Nevada City lodge of Elks, and because of his splendid character and fair dealings had endeared himself to every one with whom he came in contact. To know him was to know a man whose word was his bond, who was charitable ,and in whose veins ran the warmth of pioneer blood. When he died the community lost a friend and counselor, a courageous adversary and a staunch friend.

The funeral was held in Downieville yesterday June 4, from the Odd Fellows hall, with the Nevada City lodge of Elks officiating. Tho Holmes Funeral Home was in charge of the obsequies.

METAL MINES IN UTAH OPENING

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 5—Optimism has entered the mining industry, worth $2,000,000 annually to Utah, for the first time in several years, based on market improvement and increased prices.

As a result, one of the largest mineral areas in the state has been reopened, new developments have started and construction is well under way on the largest lead refinery in the intermountain west.

The first definite step toward an optimistic future since 1929 was taken by the United States Smelting Company. Construction has been started on a new lead refinery, in connection with its smelter at Midvale. The plant will be the largest west of Omaha, Nebraska.

The new refinery, scheduled to be completed by September 1, will produce 6000 tons of 99.9 per cent lead per month. It will also be equipped to refine gold and silver.

Development of mining property in Bingham districts by the American Smelting & Refining Company, has been under way several weeks. The project will cost between $40,-000 and $50,000. Long term leases for the Boston Consolidated Sulphide property of the Utah Copper Company, and territory of the Utah Metal and Tunneling Company have been signed, W. J. O'Connor, Utah manager of the consignees, revealed.

The section is rich in minerals having produced more than 15,000,-000 tons of copper, lead, zinc and silver ores.

O'BRIEN BACK IN ROLPH'S FOLD

SACRAMENTO, June 5—(UP)—Daniel J. O'Brien, former director of penology, is back wih the Rolph administration.

He has agreed to accept a state post as deputy director of the motor vehicle department. The appointment was made by Theodore Roche, director.

The job, like Roche's, carries nc remuneration. O'Brien's duties were not specified .

O'Brien's return was regarded as significant from the political standpoint. First, it killed rumors that the former San Francisco police commissioner and Rolph were at "outs." Second, it brought back into the administration fold a keen political head whose counsel will be of invaluable assistance to the governore in the 1934 campaign.

The former director of penology resigned a day or so after the legislature virtually abolished his position by removing the $3,600 annual salary. O'Brien had been absent for about a year in Europe, recovering from ill health.

It was believed that O'Brien's chief duty will be to advise the governor on political matters. Rolph is facing a stiff campaign—this assuming, as everyone does, that he will be a candidate for reelection—and will need all the counsel he can secure. An idea of the task ahead of Rolph is the fact that only one California governor, Hiram Johnson, has been reelected in the state's history.

O'Brien was brought into the Rolph administration early in 1931 along with other San Franciscans who had long been associated with the governor during his 20-year tenure as mayor of the bay city metropolis. He was born in San Francisco. Twenty-five years ago he secured a job as patrolman. He worked up through the ranks and was appointed chief in 1920. Eight years later he retired, only to be appointed police commissioner a year later. He resigned that job in 1930 and shortly thereafter was named directory of penology.

COUNTY SPENDS $24,875 A YEAR ON CHARITIES

By MELVIN LORD

Sacramento, June 5—(UP)—Expenditures for the care of the needy aged, blind and children by the state and counties are increasing steadily according to a report of the state department of social welfare.

LORD

At the beginning of last month a total of 31,026 persons were receiving state aid, an increase of 240 over the total of April 1. At the same time the expenditures for April totaled $337,000 as compared to $335,647 in March.

California's program of caring for the needy is responsible for a considerable part of governmental expenditures. State records show that counties alone spent $7,659,536 for the care of indigents outside of almshouses last year.

Of this total, $24,875.55 was spent by Nevada county, the records revealed.

The total expenditures for "charaties and corrections by the 58 counties was $34,064,214.

A tabulation of the persons receiving aid at the present time from the state and counties shows 13,-090 needy aged, 2,137 blind persons and 15,799 children.

Mine Claim Holding Notices Must Be Filed

CAMPTONVILLE, June 2—Acton M. Cleveland, local Notary Public, has given out notice that in accordance with new rulings, in order for mining claim owners, not paying federal income taxes, to take advantage of the moritorium on assessment work on mining claims must file a notice of intention to hold the claim with the County Recorder before July 1, 1933. If this is not complied with, such claims will be open for re-location. Forms for this filing may be obtained from his office.

THE MORGAN INCIDENT

Revelations before the senate committee that J. P. Morgan and his associates paid no federal income tax for three years during the depression brings to light an astounding situation, according to California editors.

Granting that the returns were entirely within the law, say the editors, the natural inferrence that the financiers had no income does not seem logical.

"The dispatches tell us," said the Bakersfield California, "that Congress is about to consider further legislation to plug up the holes in income tax laws. Well, so far as most citizens are concerned, there appears not to have been any holes; they have paid according to their earnings, which is what they should have done. But when the rich banker can demonstrate that he has no earnings, what can we hope from legislation to increase the income tax rate?"

According to the Orange Daily News, "there is no good reason to suppose that the assets of the House of Morgan suffered more severe shrinkage than the assets of the average person of the country who has continued to pay income tax; and if Mr. Morgan has kept within the letter of the law and at the same time been exempt from bearing a share in the support of government, then it is prefectly obvious that the income tax laws need amendment . . . .Whatever may be the reason, equity and justice cry out for correction of such weakness in the national laws that permit the wealthy and the powerful to unload the responsibilities of government on the less fortunate."

"It is time for the government to take another look at this entire matter of the capital-gain-and-loss ax," remarked the San Francisco News. "Rich men of the country should not be able to escape income taxes at the very moment when the rest of the country is burdened with increased taxes and when the government is so desperately in need of revenue."

"There will be less complaint of taxes from the man of ordinary means if he can be assured that those at the apex of the business structure are doing their full share," said the Marysville Appeal-Democrat. "It should not be possible by hiring clever tax experts, or by questionable transfers of ownership within a family, or by fleeing to the refuge of government, state and municipal bonds, to escape the tax collector. There should be no system of taxation that does not require payment in proportion to ability to pay."

"If the Morgans be allowed to write off of their income returns losses from shrinkage," commented the Hanford Daily Sentinel, "then the same rule ought to apply to the average income tax payer. But it happens not to so apply. Under such a condition there would be very little if any returns from that source this year. We hope the senate probe committee will get at all the facts, and make them known to the public."

"An income tax plan that permits J. P. Morgan to evade payment while it makes exactions from every man earning $1,000 a year does not have to be pointed out as defective," said the Glendale News-Press. "That it is defective is an obvious fact that proclaims itself. Even if the banker is able to point to losses, and cite his books as proof, he cannot make the public believe there is any justice in his immunity. Congress certainly has been given a lesson. Its failure to patch up the weak spots in the law would be inexcusable."

Hoarded Gold

Within the bank were two grand plus belonging to Jim Tottle,
He drew it out in gleaming gold and put it in a bottle.
Then—oh, of course the man was daft—he took his precious pelf
Out to the barn and left it there upon a dusty shelf.
And there, quite undisturbed it stood, for fourteen years and more,
Unseen by those who chanced to pass the old barn's sagging door.
Jim pailed the cow at night and morn, and at such times, I'm told,
He never failed to feast his eyes upon that cache of gold.
A boy came to the barn one day; his folk, camped by the river,
Had sent him for a bit of tin to mend the family flivver.
His keen eyes spied the treasurer trove, his brain appraised its worth;
"Gosh, better get gold this-a-way than pan it from the earth!"
He pressed the bottle to his breast and quickly sped away—
The Yuba boasted one camp less before the close of day.
When Tottle missed his hoard that night, he let expletives fly;
He threw the milk pail at the cow and raised a hue and cry.
The officers made no delay—in this case they were lucky;
They rounded up the battered fliv a scant half mile from Truckee.
Within the car were ma and pa, and bright eyed Willie Beven,
The gold, by mother tightly clutched, and sister aged eleven.
They heard the siren's shuddering wail, pa stepped upon the gas,
The law's arm barred the narrow road and would not let them pass.
But ere the fateful moment came, ma tossed the gold afar;
It landed on a mining dump, some distance from the car,
The officers were now perplexed—they found no trace of gold;
The friendly darkness had concealed ma's action swift and bold.
Not to be fooled, they brought all four back to Nevada City,
And lodged them in the county jail, which really was a pity.
Next day a sturdy mountaineer approached that salted dump,
When suddenly and painfully his heart began to thump.
He couldn't trust his bulging eyes—he stopped his truck to stare;
"What devil's dream is this?" he gasped, "is that coin over there?"
He scrambled down in trembling haste to take a closer squint,
"Well glory be," he cried, "this mine is runnin' its own mint!"
He scooped the scattered twenties up, and hastened back to Truckee,
Then as he paid his honest debts, he thought, "by gar, I'm lucky!"
But as he went from place to place, indulging pleasant fancies;
Folk talked and winked, and looked at him with dark, suspicious glances.
Of course wild rumors took to wing, the story soon got out,
And chortling officers declared, "we've found the kale, no doubt!"
Our Truckee friend was dispossessed—they took his "find" that day;
And once again the gold reserve rolled merrily away.
Now how will Justice go about untangling this coil?
I wonder, will she tear her hair and burn the midnight oil?
Oh Well, that's no affair of mine, I have no hoarded gold,
Enough for me to know that I a truthful tale have told.

A. MERRIAM CONNER.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

One sentiment which came to the surface in Alleghany after the recent fire is illustrative of the sportsmanship of the people of this little high Sierra mountain settlement. Each one who lost so heavily in the holocaust sought ways and means of helping others who lost. Even men who were competitors became brothers in truth. With no thought but the other fellows welfare they went about finding ways and means to help. This was not a Gaston Alphonse gesture. It came from the heart and its sincerity was demonstrated with more than lip service.

Those of us who drive the mountain roads enough to really become familiar with them realize that extra care must be exercised to avoid accidents. The tragedy ending Mr. Winkles life last week is still very clear in my mind, having been an eyewitness to the devastating effect of a slight error in judgment or perhaps the failure of some part of the steering aparatus. The thought I wish to bring out is that we cannot be too careful in driving these mountain roads and in impressing the danger on those with whom we come in contact.

The worshippers of the goddess of Terpsichore will find ample opportunity to trip the light fantastic in this community this summer.

Frank Thurston's Lake Olympia dance place will open very soon, the Twin Cities is building a new platform in the old location, Riley's Midway Barbecue has built dance facilities for their patrons, the Log Cabin also has dancing and altogether one will be able to choose whatever location or whatever kind of an orchestra which strikes the fancy at any moment. Well dancing is better than crying, So "on with the Dance."

When we die, where does the soul go if there is one? No one knows, everybody has a belief which gives pleasure and satisfaction to them. Without opening a religious discussion, here is one idea. Lincoln died about 68 years ago, yet even to this day his spirit guides us both in spiritual and mundane living. He is held up to the youth of the land as an inspiration and an example of all the worth while attributes and in this sense his spirit lives forever. Perhaps that is the divine spark and the life immortal, who knows?

Last week was one of those hectic weeks of which one might read in fiction. The Alleghany fire, opened the week, then came accidents, deaths from natural causes of some of my friends. In general the stars must have turned their back and let things go willy nilly.

"JIM" ASKS "FRANK" TO VISIT CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, June 5—(UP)—California's master entertainer and host, Governor "Sunny Jim" Rolph, today looked forward eagerly to the arrival, next July 23, of at least 23 of the nation's governors who will attend the National Governors' Conference in California.

Every spare minute of the governor's time—and his spare minutes are painfully extracted during the hectic bill signing period—is devoted to making arrangements for entertaining the visiting governors.

Twenty-three state executives have accepted California's invitation. They include Governors Pinchot, Pennsylvania; Winat, New Hampshire; Talmadge, Georgia; Olson, Minnesota; Park, Missouri; Blood, Utah; Hardee, Florida; Allen, Louisiana; Connor, Mississippi; Enringhaus, North Carolina; Lehman, New York; McNutt, Maryland; Brann, Maine; Buck, Deleware; Cross, Connecticut; Landon, Kansas; Pollard, Virginia; Balzar, Nevada; Cooney, Montana; Green, Rhode Island; Ross, Idaho; Langer, North Dakota and Moeur, Arizona.

President Roosevelt was invited but, of course, was compelled to refuse. Governor Rolph called up the President the other day to urge him to attend.

"Sorry, Jim," the president replied, "but I can't make it. However, I'll get in touch with George (Secretary of War George H. Dern) and see if he'll represent me."

HANDWRITING ONLY CLUE TO THIS POSTAL

WILLOWS, June 5—(UP)—Postal officials here are trying to figure this one out.

An unaddressed postal card, mailed at Berkeley by John Knight, poultry buyer there, was delivered promptly here, 150 miles away, to were mentioned in the message on his father J. L. Knight. No names the card which began "Dear Dad," and ended, "Son."

Local postal authorities recognized John Knight's handwriting after a little study, but are wondering how the card happened to be delivered to Willows.

NO MORE ROAMING FOR THIR SAILOR MAN

Many a summer vacationist would be willing to "hock' the family homestead for a trip to Hawaii, but not Jack Martinez.

Jack wouldn't even accept a round-trip ticket to the sunkissed land of the ukelele as a gift. He'd rather be a landlubber and cater to the wants of the traveling public at his recently acquired auto court near here.

There's a reason, of course. For fifteen years he sailed the Pacific as an employe of the Matson lines, roundtrips to the Hawaiian isles. during which time he made 450 "I'm just tire dof jumping all over the Pacific and want to settle down in one place," he said.

CANADA HILL TO TAP WELL KNOWN ST. LOUIS VEIN

With the steady installation of surface equipment the Canada Hill mine, being rehabilitated by West Mines Corporation, presents a rapidly changing picture. The new electric hoist has been housed and is ready for operation, replacing the gasoline hoist that has been in use, and the new compressor has been set on concrete base. A new pump is expected to be ready for service shortly.

Clearing of the old shaft has proceeded to a depth of 210 feet. The amount of water the mine is making at present is considerably less than was anticipated and a more substantial flow has been encountered above the operations, evidently supported by caved materials. The sills of the old sets were found to be in good condition and are being utilized in the retimbering work, indicating that they have been under water since the cave. tI is expected that the crew, working under Orlando McCraney, managing director, will be in the open shaft within ten days o rtwo weeks when unwatering of th emine will begin and work will be on a much more rapid scale.

While reconditioning of the shaft continues, it is planned to put the sixth level into shape for mining a block of ore reported as having been developed there. As early as possible a cut will be driven from a lower level. to the great St. Louis vein, a vein hitherto untapped in the Canada Hill holdings although heavily productive in adjoining properties.

Not Superstitious About Ladders, Just Cautious

SACRAMENTO, June 5—(UP)—Women superstitious? No, indeed, just cautious.

Workmen on a dowtown business street here recently propped a ladder up against a building placing the lower end of it exactly in the middle of the side walk. A curious observer kept tally on the passing pedestrians.

A ten-minute checkup gave the following results: Of 46 women passing that point 34 carefully walked around so as not to pass under the ladder, while 38 of the 61 men did likewise. Twenty-three men walked under the ladder deliberately but the 12 women were believed to be window shopping and failed to see it.

RILEY TAX PLAN TO SAVE NEVADA COUNTY $89,000

SACRMENTO—If the Riley-Stewart tax plan carries June 27th, it will save the taxpayers of Nevada county from paying $1A.63 on each $100 of assessed valuation for school support, or the total sum of $89,204.

Senate Sonstitutional Amendment No. 30, which will appear as Proposition No. 1 on the ballot, is the most comprehensive and logical plan for tax relief ever put up to the people of California," Foulke said.

It provides for repeal of Amendment No. 1, adopted in 1910. This would put $1,338,000,000 in property of the great public utilities--railroads, telephone, telegraph, gas and electric companies—back on the local tax rolls, thus removing the utilities from a preferred position.

Under the Riley-Stewart plan, the state will assume the burden of supporting elementary and high schools, thereby saving approximately $38,000,000 a year for the common property taxpayers, and effecting an average reduction of 71 cents per $100 in the tax rate on all property taxed locally.

Other features include a limitation on the increase of governmental expenditures of 5 per cent a year in cities, counties and districts, and 2½ per cent for the state.

"The Riley--Stewart plan will save a great deal of property from mortgage foreclosures," Folke added, "because it will raise values so loans will have a safety margin, and will put the tax burden within reach of the taxpayer. Delinquent taxes are the principal cause of foreclosures in California."

LUMBER TALKS

She'll share your lot if you will build
A bungalow upon it;
You'll scarce begin to press your suit,
Before you'll find you've won it;
There's nothing like a little home
To make a maiden say, "I'll come."

Now. if you own a vacant lot
Make use of it, I pray you;
Put up a neat apartment house,
And tenants will repay you.
This city's growing, get in line
And do your best to make it fine.

If you've a building to repair,
Well, we can help you do it;
Don't let old landmarks tumble down
Or you'll be sure to rue it;
There's nothing too good for our town,
Let's work to build up her renown.
